WHY BLUE JEANS

- Video communication from anywhere with up to 3,000 connections
- Used by over 140 universities, community colleges, and school districts
- Institutions in over 10 countries and 34 states
- Access meetings and recordings within Canvas
- Real-time service intelligence for IT
- Accessibility for the visual and hearing impaired
- 24/7 global support

“As a university with hundreds of staff and students, we needed a converged conferencing tool that is quick and easy to set up with a sophisticated set of capabilities that can make an impact on our school inside and outside of the classroom. Blue Jeans Network allows professors to lecture remotely due to harsh weather conditions and more interestingly we are able to give our students access to guest lecturers from around the world”

— Eli Jacobson, Brandeis University

Great Minds Love Blue Jeans

About Blue Jeans

At Blue Jeans Network, we aim to bring great minds together to meet, share ideas and reach their audience through the power of video collaboration. By making video communication easy, secure and scalable, our cloud-based platform has taken video into the mainstream, giving educational institutions and thought leaders the power to interact face-to-face with anyone, anywhere.
