

Interprefy for BlueJeans Events

Translate your next live streaming presentation with the world's leading remote interpretation platform.

Interprefy's real-time communication solution connects multi-lingual audiences for large-scale events in a few simple steps. By removing the need for on-site equipment and eliminating interpreters' travel costs, Interprefy and BlueJeans support global enterprises with secure, accurate language translation from anywhere.

Dial-In Option

Event Organizers and Admins

Create an Interprefy account here and request translation for your upcoming multi-lingual event. Once Interprefy has scheduled your upcoming event, attendees can enter the login token on their device to receive real-time translation. Share this login token with attendees that will be joining your event.

Attendees and End Users

Download the Interprefy app for Android or iOS and enter the login token provided by event organizer. Using your smartphone, select your preferred language and an interpreter will relay all spoken content. Mute your audio output on your Mac, PC, or conference room system while watching the webcast or meeting. All visual content will appear on the BlueJeans interface while all audio content will be heard via the Interprefy app.

Cloud-Based Option

Once event organizers have been provisioned with a BlueJeans license and have scheduled an Interprefy event, a web-based audio join link can be added to the attendee invitation. Simply include, <https://interpret.world/login=thisisatesttoken> (token provided by Interprefy upon purchase) in your email invitations in addition to the BlueJeans Events attendee join link. Clicking on this link will open a language selection drop list, but in a new browser window. Users mute the audio from the BlueJeans Events browser window while enable audio within the Interprefy browser window.
